Top 10 Ways to Keep Students Connected Post-Graduation

- 1. INTRODUCTION: Introduce students to campus minister when they have decided where to go for college over email or social media. Send both campus minister and student each other's contact info.
- 2. PROMOTE: Provide information about campus ministries often through social media/fliers/new sletters and highlight at least once a semester.
- 3. HOST: Host a special youth group session for high schoolers (and parents) to connect.
- 4. VISIT CAMPUS: Know students who are checking out campuses? Ask them to swing by the United Methodist campus ministry.
- 5. CARE PACKAGES: Have the youth send care packages, including information about the United Methodist campus ministry at the campus.
- 6. SCHOLARSHIPS: Provide college scholarships from church to support and keep connection with the students.
- 7. CONNECT: Connect with students when home or visit them at school, ask them about life, faith and connecting with campus ministry and church.
- 8. INTERN: Hire intern at church during the summer to cultivate their leadership experience or promote other United Methodist internships.
- 9. ALUMNI: Know someone who has a new perspective on faith through college and campus ministry. Invite them to come speak to the youth about living their faith.
- 10. PRAY: Praying for our youth and graduates often so that they may continue to be disciples of Christ for the transformation of the world.
