Top 10 Ways to Keep Students Connected Post-Graduation

1. INTRODUCTION: Introduce students to campus minister when they have decided where to go for college over email or social media. Send both campus minister and student each other's contact info.

2. PROMOTE: Provide information about campus ministries often through social media/fliers/newsletters and highlight at least once a semester.

3. HOST: Host a special youth group session for high schoolers (and parents) to connect.

4. VISIT CAMPUS: Know students who are checking out campuses? Ask them to swing by the United Methodist campus ministry.

5. CARE PACKAGES: Have the youth send care packages, including information about the United Methodist campus ministry at the campus.

6. SCHOLARSHIPS: Provide college scholarships from church to support and keep connection with the students.

7. CONNECT: Connect with students when home or visit them at school, ask them about life, faith and connecting with campus ministry and church.

8. INTERN: Hire intern at church during the summer to cultivate their leadership experience or promote other United Methodist internships.

9. ALUMNI: Know someone who has a new perspective on faith through college and campus ministry. Invite them to come speak to the youth about living their faith.

10. PRAY: Praying for our youth and graduates often so that they may continue to be disciples of Christ for the transformation of the world.
